Places to Go 3

New Beginnings

I don't know about you but I found the end of December to be a bit of a blur. There always seems to be such a race to the end of the year and with both Christmas and New Year's falling mid-week things seemed even more frantic than usual, that said it was a wonderful time with friends and family.

For the first time we went to the Tanglewood Festival of Lights with our grown children. "No singing was allowed" per #1 daughter, but laughter, and oohing and aweing was abundant. We plan to go again next year. If you haven't attended you should put it on your list of Holiday activities to consider.

This may be a little bit late——but no one will really know..... I want to share a suggestion from a New Year's blog entry that struck me as a truly great idea. As you cross over into 2014 instead of making New Year's resolutions how about leaving the memories of regrets and mistakes behind? Take only those things you're proud of, the things that make you smile, that lift your spirit. If you're like me you spent enough time in 2013 re-hashing what went wrong with this or that or what you coulda, woulda, shoulda done differently.

It's 2014, full of promise and possibilities. You have a new blank calendar ready to be inscribed with all sorts of adventures and new challenges.

It's gonna be a GREAT YEAR!

Steve

Don't forget about our new Steam Cleaner.

For the first quarter (January 1st thru March 31st) we're offering a great special service. With every regular 3 hr. cleaning we include a complimentary 'dust mite by products be gone' mattress-steam cleaning. So if you are a monthly client, you could get three beds taken care of before Spring.

A weekly client?? We'll do 12 beds for you*

*they must all be at the same location as you're regular house cleaning 😊

Adventures in the Triad and Beyond

Have you heard there is a new aquarium in Greensboro? It is part of the Greensboro Science Center. Sounds like a great place to put on your ‘places to visit’ list. There is a science museum and zoo as well as the accredited aquarium (North Carolina’s first inland one) The SciQuarium features a wide variety of animals and fish, including African Penguins, sharks, otters, fishing cats, eels, and many more. The Center is currently having a naming contest for the five adorable otters that were born on Veteran’s Day. You can go to www.greensboroscience.org and cast your vote. The center is open daily from 9 am to 5 pm.

‘Discovered’ a place you would like to share with our mailing list???

We would love to print your suggestions. Just email VIPHomeKeeping@gmail.com with your favorite place and any information you think we should include----and any photos as well.

Roxie & Friends

This is my new friend Corbin,. He owns Fortress Insurance in Clemmons. You probably know VIP HomeKeeping is fully insured and bonded and Corbin is the guy who takes care of all of that and makes sure your stuff is protected from ‘mayhem’ like me. Steve says that is one of the reasons' I can't come with him to your house.....but at least I get to meet some of the folks who help him keep things in order for you.

Corbin has been in business a long time and really knows his stuff. His is an independent agency, so that means he can find the absolutely-right insurance product at the best price to meet your personal needs—pretty cool, huh. So you are a VIP with him, too!

Fortress Insurance can help you with insurance for your home, business, life and transportation—cars, trucks, motorcycles and even boats and planes— and pretty much anything you need to have insured.

You can reach Corbin at 336-354-4000 or drop by the office at 2255-C Lewisville-Clemmons Road

And don't forget to mention my name, after all you wouldn't want me to miss out on any cookies 😊
